Unbelievable

We're unbelievable. Always creating the next big thing, we have strutted our stuff down the runways of North Attleboro High School for the past four extremely fashionable years. Now, we're leaving our mark here and moving on to the top of the line. Our style-savvy class of 2003 has truly stood out in the crowd since day one.

We put our best foot forward as we sashayed into the spotlight freshman year. Our first impression? This school desperately needed a makeover – we had arrived just in time! Sweeping everyone up into a whirlwind of haute couture, we knocked their bobby socks off as we rolled out our style. Our only fashion faux faux, the bulging backpack, has transformed itself into the classic trademark of the annual line of freshmen.

Stealing the Scene

As sparkling sophomores, we stole the scene yet again with our spankin' new backpacks (safely stored away deep within our lockers) and our slammin' school spirit. We arrived prepared to stun the world by becoming the first class to outsmart the MCAS. We struck a pose for the RMV cameras as we showed off our driving expertise and our pearly whites. Our model behavior began to wear off as our true colors started to shine. We continued building our catchy wardrobe with confidence, proudly accepting the envious looks from the other classes, who were still sporting their dowdy duds. Feeling as though we were stuck in a fashion rut, we trudged along in our flip-flops and Docs, eagerly awaiting our upcoming year as upperclassmen.

In the Spotlight

The administration, which was so last season, simply could not keep up with our cutting edge attitude and abdicated, leaving a power vacuum in its wake. All year, we arrived to class fashionably late after our long trek up the rocky runway from the drab junior parking lot. We proved our fashion sense by showing that we could still look good in sweatpants early on a Saturday morning while we searched the racks in our brains for the correct fit on our SATs. We maintained this sleek sense of fashion through the the thunderous noise of the hard-hat wearing construction workers remodeling the school to make it look good for our senior year by adding brand new portable classrooms. As our jazzy junior year came to an end, we knew we were poised for a dazzling senior year.

Hats Off

Everyone got all dolled up for their senior portraits, segueing into our final year at North. We got decked out in red and white for the last few times for the Homecoming and Thanksgiving Day games. Some of our senior guys showed off new facets of themselves at the Mr. NAHS pageant, dispelling the myth that the male population has no fashion sense. Most of us spent countless hours waiting in the guidance office to determine where we would end up next year. As the year wore on our decisions became apparent as we showed up at school wearing college and army apparel. Senior prom passed in a blur of color and we prepared ourselves for graduation. Displaying the poise and sophistication that we had gained over the past four years, we took our final walk down the runway, flipped our tassles, and bid adieu to NAHS.

Class of 2003 History

Freshman Year

In September of 1999, the Class of 2003 began its four year tenure at North Attleboro High School. At first, everything seemed so big, but we quickly adapted to the challenges that lay ahead of us. Our days were full of school work, as well as extra curricular activities such as sports and drama.

Freshmen year was the first year we could elect class officers, and as a class we elected Jamie Moynihan as President, Jess Demers Vice President, Jay Downing Treasurer, and Megan Weldon Secretary. These officers led us in our pursuit of a first place homecoming float, but unfortunately we only placed fourth.

Perhaps the most memorable occasion from freshmen year was the Freshmen-Sophomore Social. Over six hundred students packed into the Middle School Cafeteria, where we all partied like it was 1999.

By the end of the year, we were relieved to have one year out of the way, but we looked forward for the three years still to come.

Sophomore Year

After a successful freshman year, the Class of 2003 entered our sophomore year with a new found confidence. We were assured that we could accomplish anything set before us. As sophomores, we obtained higher levels of responsibility and maturity. We had to fulfill much higher expectations, and set the forefront for a great high school experience.

The beginning of the year meant the building of the float. We shared ideas and worked numerous hours to produce a fantastic creation. Our school spirit shone through at the rallies as we represented our school pride with overflowing bags of confetti and energetic voices. Once again, the annual Freshman/Sophomore Social proved to be a great success with over 600 students in attendance and we all had fun sticking in the winter wonderland.

The 2000-2001 school year proved to be a success for our class in academics, athletics, and the arts. We surpassed all expectations set before us and everyone could see that the greatness of the students of the class of 2003 would continue throughout our high school careers.

Junior Year

As we were thrown into our junior year, we were unsure of what lay ahead of us. We were, however, constantly reminded that "junior year was the most important year". We studied hard and prepared ourselves well for the difficult challenges ahead.

To start our year off, we elected Bobby Phillips as President, Jessie Demers as Vice President, Tara Rose as Treasurer, and Lindsay Colvin as Secretary. As the year progressed, we spent many hours constructing our homecoming float titled "Royal Flush". Fortunately, our hard work paid off as we received first place in the float competition.

Our next task as a class was to prepare ourselves for a fierce competition, the Powderpuff football game. Under the patient leadership of coaches Jaime Martin, Jordan Goldberg, and Garrett Vandette, we drilled the seniors deep into the ground after dominating the game and sending the seniors home in embarrassment.

Finally, February came and it was time for the most important event of the year, the Junior Prom. We worked hard planning our prom at the Rhodes on the Pawtuxet. Before the night came to an end, we crowned Jaime Martin as Prom King and Jess Demers as Prom Queen. The night was a great success! Our junior year helped us to develop individual goals and reminded us to keep striving for success. We prepared ourselves to come back as the rulers of the school, seniors!

Senior Year

Finally the long awaited year began, senior year. We led by example as students, athletes, musicians, artists, actors, and leaders. We began by electing President Brent England, Vice President Jess Demers, Treasurer Jay Downing, and Secretary Rich Cherecwich as senior class officers. Sports teams were led to victory and clubs remained successful as seniors led as true leaders from setting examples and leading from the front.

Homecoming fast approached and we were faced with the float competition. We constructed a jungle complete with animals and speakers blaring "Welcome to the Jungle" as we welcomed the opposing team to OUR jungle. Seniors dominated the competition in both the float contest and the football game, bringing success and victory home for one last time at the high school level.

Powderpuff football was also largely a success led by outstanding coaches, Jordan Goldberg, Rob King, and Nick Stevens. We controlled the game from the beginning, and ended up with a win. Coupled with the fall play which showcased our theatric abilities, we were sidetracked from the stress of college applications.

Finally, however, due dates began to come closer and the essays had to be written. Essays and paperwork filled our days and we were beginning to forget what having fun meant. They couldn't hold us back for long though, we persevered through applications and started having fun again into the New Year.

2003 brought with it tensions of college acceptance and rejection letters, which filled the mailboxes that we looked in every time we went by them, but also brought the senior prom and yes, eventually graduation. Seniors and their dates rocked into the night at the Quiddnessett Country Club to "Lets get it on" by Marvin Gaye. The wait staff chose Prom King Jake Ducharme and Prom Queen Tara Rose to lead a stunning class in beautiful dresses and handsome tuxes.

To Mr. Gay and Mr. Barrett, Thank You for suggestions and your support. A special thanks also goes out to the secretaries in the office for always helping out with anything we needed. To Mr. Vito, Mr. Aussant, and Mr. Briata, Thank You for the encouragement and the good ideas. We also extend gratitude to all the teachers and coaches who motivated us to become more mentally and physically competent.

Underclassmen

This year, the underclassmen were really stylin'. With the diversity of funky freshmen, sparklin' sophomores, and jazzy juniors, the North Attleboro High School students knew they truly had a remarkable group. Freshmen molded into a fashionable posse that is well poised for future success. The sophomores continued their steady rise into classy, dazzling individuals ready to tackle the many obstacles to come. And the juicy class of juniors are surely ready to dominate the school and bring a new, fresh, and invigorating vibe to the halls. As each class continues to give their all to sports, art, drama, music, and work, they demonstrate the importance of truly having it all; beauty, character, and brains.

The Next Big Thing

This year's Junior class met and overcame many challenges. Financial problems within the class treasury led to a failed attempt at a fund-raising homecoming dance, however, we put all of our efforts towards designing a superbly unique homecoming float. Our amazing creation made up for any lack of spirit, grabbing second place in the float contest. The Junior Prom was a beautiful evening and a momentous success. Held at Kirkbrae Country Club on March 29, Juniors and their dates had a fantastic time dining and dancing at one of Rhode Island's finest halls. With some final SAT's and college visits, the class of 2004 will stream into our senior year on a locomotive of school spirit, ambition, and anticipation.

"WONDERFUL"

By Marissa Parent

"Wonderful" was the theme of the Junior Prom and perfectly described our night. It was held at Kirkbrae Country Club overlooking a gorgeous golf course. The food was a delicacy and the open bar was such a convenience. Great music provided by the DJ gave us the opportunity to dance the night away. It was a perfect night that I'm sure we'll all remember forever.

ROYALTY Tim Bartucca and Kasey Gallagher are ecstatic to be named King and Queen.

MODEL BEHAVIOR

Simply Stylin' Sophomores

We came into this year with high hopes and even higher expectations for a great sophomore year. Although our freshmen year flew by with many great memories, there was no question that this year would be even better. With four fantastic officers, we knew we'd make an outstanding float and a great social we could all boogie at. Preparation for the homecoming float was difficult but with cooperation from the sophomore class we created, at least in our minds, the absolute best. Ours was blatantly the most impressive. With help from wonderful class advisors, we planned the most memorable experience possible for our last social. The DJ from Jam'n 94.5 played our favorite music while we danced the night away.

Freshmen/ Sophomore Social

By Laura Shanley

This year, the freshmen/sophomore social truly was a blast. All the stylin' underclassmen and their dates dressed to impress and got their groove on the dance floor. With awesome music, great friends, and delicious refreshments, it was definitely a night to remember. Everyone let loose for a night of fun and created a very special evening.

BEST BUDS (above) Courtney Morton and Melinda Neas are having a blast together.

Fashion Premiere

This year has truly been a year of growth and change. There have been tons of differences from the middle school atmosphere to the high school. We were no longer the big kids and dealt with choosing a variety of classes, busy halls, and tiny lockers. Our first project as class officers was to put together the class float. With tons of contribution from our flashy class, we easily put together an awesome float. As freshmen, it was difficult to know what to expect, but we tried our best and are proud of our accomplishment. Our second project was organizing the freshman/sophomore social. We began selling tickets and a huge number of our class responded. We had great expectations for our special social and danced the night away looking as stylin' as ever under the white lights. Our year was great and full of surprises. We laughed, cried, made mistakes and learned a ton. One down, three to go...

Sports

Sports play an important role in our high school years. We work through the hard times and always come out winners. Our dirty uniforms may not make great looking fashion statements, but they show our determination and winning spirit. Sports help us to create ourselves through hard work and being part of a team. The success our teams have achieved this year make us look great as a school, a team, and as individuals.

Field Hockey

Field Hockey

To the tune of "Fresh Prince" by Willard Smith and Jeffrey Townes

Now this is A story all about us.
Throwin' on our new jerseys and headin' to the Bus.
A team Of sisters oh so holy, so bOw ya head,
We'll tell you about a team nickNamed Big Red.

In North Atleboro wE were born And raised.
On the field hockey field is where we spent Most of our Days.
CheerIn' loud, workiN' hard, danciN all coo,
And shootin' some stRokes before Papa'S and DQ.

We were a couple oF girls just looking for a win,
And befoRe they knew it, we shutout FranklIn.
MansfiEld got scared wheN we scored two nasty goals,
And then we tied Stoughton -- double zeros.

We needed Some guidance, and wHen it came near,
It was Coach QuiNn in the minivan with three kids in the mirror.
If anythinG we coUlD say this cool cAt was rare,
But as weRe Coaches Goyette and Steele -- we must Declare. S

We pulled up to the school aBout sevEn or eight,
Homework and dinNer . . . Too much too Late.
ThE sound of "WE LOVE YOU SENIORS" fillin' the loft,
As we hand down our throne to Daniels and Cough.

Much love and lots of luck --
Lindsay McKearney and Lindsay Colvin

Field Faux Pas

This team made a huge mistake when it thought it could get by seniors Lisa Gould and Cheryl Squibb.

Not So Fast

Senior Meghan Barry stops her opponent dead in her tracks with a placed jab.

Out of My Way

Junior Katie Daniels swoops in to steal the ball from her opponent with backup from senior co-captain Lindsay Colvin.

Do the Hustle

Senior co-captain Lindsay Colvin runs back out to the field to show everyone what she's made of.

Girls' Soccer

For most of the girls' soccer players, the 2002 season started in early August. They attended camp as a team in New Hampshire and won the camp championship for the first time ever. This gave them a lot of confidence knowing that they were on their way to a season full of remarkable team chemistry. With great preparation and hard work at captains' practices and double sessions, the team was ready to take on their challenging opposition. Going up against some of the toughest teams in the state, the North girls held their own in the Hockomock League. Exciting victories such as the "Foxboro Sweep" and returning the Blue Red Cup to where it belongs highlighted a successful season that finished with an amazing 9 game unbeaten streak.

The team entered the state tournament knowing that whatever happened from that point on, they had gotten this far and had no reason to hang their heads. Losing to Durfee might have ended the 2002 season, but the friendships and fun times made it unforgettable. Sign making parties, team dinners and "Dress Up Your Little Sister" day are only a few of the countless memories created by this group of true teammates. The seniors will always look back on this season and their four years playing soccer and be able to smile. We'll miss you girls next year but we know you'll make us proud!

A Season Full of Kicks

The North Attleboro boys opened up their season with a tough loss to King Philip. With a strong defense held together by Jamie Moynihan, Connor Richardson, Mike Barry, and Tyler McNally, the Rocketeers pushed on and came up with a tie in their next game against Oliver Ames. The midfield was led by leading goal scorer Kevin Dailey, who was helped tremendously by Jay Downing, Bryan McNamara, and Greg Korbas.

Up front was a young group of forwards, consisting of Dan Dailey, Jeff Cumplido, Dylan O'Neill, and Brett Lareau. They worked extremely hard to score goals. The boys' soccer team suffered a tough loss when star goal keeper Alex Cekala was injured early in the season and was not able to return, however, the return of Mike Close greatly impacted the team. The team is expected to improve tremendously next season, led by captains Tyler McNally and Dan Dailey. Good luck next year!

Going the Distance

This year's Boys' Cross Country team hit the ground "running". Led by valiant captains Bobby "the Sheriff" Phillips and Bobby "Sarge" Pailes, the Rocketeer runners grew both as a team and as individual athletes.

Throughout the season, Ian Hobson, Nathaniel Lane, Rich Cherecwich, Jake Ducharme, and Brendan Flynn all contributed strong running. Although the team only finished with a 2 - 7 record, the year built a strong foundation with the younger runners. The team also excelled at volleyball and mulch pile wrestling.

All in all, the team truly came together as a whole, and should be successful in the future under next year's captains, Ian Hobson and Chris Kalafarski.

Pushing Forward

Junior Katie Brunelle focuses on her next step.

Teamwork

The 2002 Girls' Cross Country team proved that a small team can go a long way. The XC Girls knew they would have to step it up to keep up with the other teams in the league. We entered each meet with determination and enthusiasm. The nine girls worked hard to finish out the season with a 4 - 4 record and a sixth place finish in the Hockomock League Championships.

Under the leadership of Captain Christina Bonome and Coach Dwight Estey we managed to make the season a memorable one. Winning was not always most important. The nine different personalities came together to make every practice fun. The friendships and memories made will last forever.

Good luck to next year's captain Andrea McKim and all the girls!

You know you're a cross country runner when . . .

-every sport is cancelled, but XC!

-it doesn't faze you when a man with a gun says, "Take 'em off girls."

-running doesn't seem easy anymore.

Much love,

Christina Bonome

The 2002 Golf season was one of great individual performances. The team missed out on its main goal of qualifying for the state golf tournament, but still had a successful year. The squad improved upon last year's team's record and also seized some serious hardware in the process.

The season started off with a bang, as North shot to the front of the Hock with a 3 - 0 mark. Soon, however, the team fell back to earth, as the losses began to pile up like hotcakes. Peter Gay, the interim coach who took control of the helm, managed to get the team back on track though. The team finished with an 8 - 10 record on the season, one match short of a tournament berth.

All was not lost, however, as Mitch Rose, in one of the greatest duels the league has ever seen, beat the heavily favored Greg Braston of Foxboro for the League Individual Championship. Mitch was also named a league all-star for his great season. Also, "Marky Mark" Raposa, Justin "Big Pun" Guimond, and Captain Kevin McIsaac added some flava' to the team, in addition to their solid play.

The future is bright for next year, as Captains Raposa and Guimond, along with Mitchell Rose, will anchor a team with much promise. Good luck to the team next year.

Super Bowl Champions

The 2002 North Attleboro High School varsity football season was like no other. Behind captains Bryan Harris, Jordan Goldberg, and Garrett Vandette, the so-called "inexperienced" team did the improbable, winning the Hockomock league title, as well as the Division III State Championship.

Everyone on the team, from sophomores to seniors, contributed to reach the excellent level of playing that we achieved by the end of the season. Beginning the season with two losses, the toughness of the team came through, going undefeated in the rest of our games.

The incredible accomplishments of the 2002 Rocketeers fully reflect the belief in our motto:

NO EXCUSES.
NO ALIBIS.
NO EXCEPTIONS.

Volleyball

North Volleyball's 2002 season started off with our team facing new rules, along with the loss of two varsity starters from the year before. Overcoming the difficulty of the new rules, we had a great start by defeating our big rival, Bishop Feehan. We continued playing well in the Hockomock League to finish 15 - 5 for the start of tournament. The first round brought Whitman-Hansen to our gym. Everyone played well and we dominated the entire match. The next team was New Bedford. By the flip of a coin, we met New Bedford at their house. In the end we lost, but we were proud of how we were the only North Attleboro volleyball team to take a game from New Bedford.

Unlike any other group of girls, our team bonded together like a family. We overcame personal differences to get along and play as a team. We also enjoyed our team pre-game trips to the locker room led by Courtney Smith. Lastly, whether we liked it or not, our team always had ENTHUSIASM!

Making A Comeback

This year's basketball team improved on last year's disappointing season. We took a big step toward a state tournament berth, however, came up one game short. Despite the missed goal, the season was still memorable. Highlights of the season included a hard fought victory over Oliver Ames in double overtime, as well as a stunning upset over rival Bishop Feehan.

With solid leadership from captains Greg Korbas and Anthony Riccio, as well as seniors Jordan Goldberg, Nick Katsafanas, and Sean Morrissey, the team was able to build a solid foundation of heart and hustle for future teams. Next year looks to be a successful one, as Hockomock League All-Stars Kyle Elliot and Mike Vine will be returning. Also returning are promising sophomores Nick Korbas, Nick Mancini, and Travis O'Connor.

Building on this year's growth as a team, hopefully next season will allow North Attleboro to reestablish themselves as a power house in the Hockomock League. Good luck to next year's team.

Girls' Basketball

North's girls' basketball team came out strong winning six out of the first eight games. The team came together early in the season, and it showed in the Christmas tournament. Proudly, the team brought home the championship from the Christmas tournament after beating Bishop Feehan in a tight game. Both senior co-captains Colleen Mahoney and Suzy Ward were chosen as a part of the all-star team. After a very successful beginning, the team faced some rough water until it came out on top beating Mansfield. The second win of the season against Stoughton sparked North's next winning streak that ended abruptly right before the end of the regular season. The team ended the regular season with a record of 12-8 and headed towards tournament. Their seed brought upon Brockton. Even though the game ended with a loss, North fought hard through the entire game and everyone ended with a smile on her face. North had a great season and overcame a lot. Best of luck to next year's team.

A Season of Sparks

The North Attleboro Wrestling Team put up a strong fight to the end this season after graduating a lot of members of the previous year's team. The team was led by senior captains Bill Finnegan and Ricky Boyle, as well as seniors Dmitri Khaitman and Christian Berg.

At the start of the season in November, no one expected North to do as well as they did with a team that was so young. Coming off of 6 years in a row of winning the Sectional Tournament, there was no way that North was going to go down without a fight in their own gym. Going into the big day, no one thought that North would be able to place in the top five, but they pulled off a third place finish with only eight place finishers. Of those eight, only four made it to the finals, and there was only one champion, Ricky Boyle.

Other key highlights of the season came also at home at the New England Tournament of Champions. This tournament is the toughest one-day tournament in all of New England. Over the past three years of hosting this tournament there have only been three finalists and one champion. Chris Howard, a second year varsity wrestler, got to feel the thrill of being one of those finalists in that prestigious tournament. To finish up the season, the team finished up by bringing five kids to the State Tournament. Of those five were juniors Kyle Wishart, Mike Kelley, and Paul Corcoran, as well as seniors Bill Finnegan and Ricky Boyle. Overall North showed its strong tradition and its ability to wrestle to the max. And the tradition will continue...

The 2002-2003 girls' indoor track team was one of the smallest ever with only 32 girls coming out. Some believed this would cause a problem, but under the guidance of Coach Feid and Coach McGrail, this group of athletes defined what it means to work together. Captains Andrea Schofield and Caitlin Hurley along with the rest of the seniors led the team to a respectable 4-4 record. As always, the tough Hockomock League presented much competition. North, however, fought hard and came away with victories over Foxboro, Sharon, Canton, and Stoughton. The distance crew provided crucial points in every meet and some entertainment at every practice. The sprinters and hurdlers owned the hallways at practice with their hard work ethic, and this carried over to dominating the straightaways at Franklin and Reggie Lewis. The throwers were forced to go through the season without Coach Holster around them 24/7, but they coached themselves well and the results were nothing less than expected. The "sisterhoods" formed and the goody bags that came along with them helped us endure long practices and those cold, early morning bus rides to meets. A highlight of the season was always those grueling workouts that suddenly became fun with a deck of cards or two teams battling it out for a free dinner. The seniors have no doubt that all the success of the program will continue under the leadership of captain elects Alycia Barney and Andrea McKim. Good luck next year girls, we'll miss you!

A Sprint Towards Success

The boys' indoor track team put together a strong season this year. Led by captains Bobby Pailes and Jamie Martin, the team ran to a 5 - 3 record.

The team's success could be credited to a strong senior class. Nick Stevens, Garrett Vandette, and Jamie Martin led the sprinters, while the distance crew was led by Bobby Pailes, Rich Cherecwich, and Nathaniel Lane. Bobby Phillips led the field events by participating in the high jump, the shot-put, and the hurdles. Junior Marcus Vaughn continued his dominance of the hurdles by setting the school record in both the 55m hurdles and as a member of the shuttle hurdle relay team. Junior Ian Hobson and sophomore Chris Carpenter contributed strong running in the mile and 50, respectively.

The team completed the season with a fourth place finish at the Hockomock Championship meet. The graduating class wishes the best of luck to next year's team.

This winter was our best season yet. After gaining only one new member and losing two, we were able to pull together as a team and win the Hockomock League title with only eight competitors. With this title we were also able to secure a place at the South Sectional Meet in which we faced major rivals Mansfield and Attleboro. Kellyn Kearney, Amanda Lopes, and Sondra Trafford represented North at the individual state meet. Although we succeeded in achieving some of our highest scores ever (130.0+), this team was much more than teammates in a gym. We also spent a great deal of time together having pre-meet pasta parties and watching old competitions, never tiring of "the fall."

With this being our final year, we couldn't have asked for a better season. We wish all the girls luck next year and always remember what's good!

Girls' Swimming

The 2002-2003 swim season seemed to fly by this year. We received an addition of eight new freshmen to aid the team. In the beginning we had a rough time with some bumps and lost a couple of our first meets. However, everything changed quickly and we could only see and accomplish success. We put forth our best effort and followed a hectic schedule. All the hard work paid off, and at the end of the season we were satisfied with our record of 5-3-1. This was a huge improvement from last year, and I'm sure that we'll continue to improve as the years go by. Although many expected us to come in fourth at The Bay Colony Conference, we were determined to turn some heads and did so by coming in second.

All of our meets were really intense. They came down to the last race but we always continued to dominate. The championship meet was no different. We fell short by only 11 points. Overall the year was a great success in the pool and out. We continued traditions such as sleepovers, pizza nights, and spaghetti dinners, from last year and also started some new ones, such as the incredibly successful car wash. The team would like to thank the coaches and parents for all the hard work, effort, and money that they put forward. Also I would like to thank the team for its effort and for a great season that I will always remember.

Tidal Wave of a Season

The boys' team, under the leadership of captain Ben Harris, enjoyed a flawless 11-0 record in dual meet competition. The boys finished first in the Bay Colony League Championship, winning every event but one during the course of the meet. At the South Sectional Meet, the boys finished sixth behind very tough competition from schools such as Boston College High School and St. Ann's Prep. The sectional meet did not go as well as both coaches and swimmers had hoped, but that only gave the boys' team more motivation to finish better with only one meet remaining. At the MIAA Class B State Championships, the boys entered with expectations high and hopes higher. With stellar swimmers from Corey and Chad Swanson, Matt Bonneau, Andrew Cronholm, Mason Hedberg, and Ian Sullivan, the boys swam a spectacular meet, finishing second behind Weston High School at the Class B State Championships. The 2003-2004 season will certainly be one to remember.

Cheerleading

Cheerleading

During the 2002-2003 fall and winter cheerleading seasons, we faced and conquered many challenges and walked away with cherished memories. Our season began with four days of hot and tiring weather at cheering camp held at Holy Cross. This is where the foundation was laid and the team became a whole. Having endless fun, we were eager to begin creating and practicing a routine for the football halftimes, rallies, and Hockomock Cheerleading Jamboree held at Sharon High School. Cheerleading alongside the student crowd for our undefeated superbowl champion football team made our fall season worthwhile. But standing outside in the cold, wet weather was only minor preparation for the long winter season that lay ahead.

Starting the winter season with a full team of twenty, four alternates, three coaches, and much support from family and friends, we were anxious and excited about the future competitions. Our three minute routine was packed with impossible new stunts, fast dances, and crowd appeal to the extreme year. We had many practices full of frustration but persevered with the consistent push from our three irreplaceable coaches and leadership from the four seniors. The constant rescheduling of basketball games and practice due to the unpredictable winter weather made it difficult for us to feel prepared confident by our first competition at Warwick Vets High School however, we returned home with a first place win and the start of an undefeated streak that lasted through regionals. Although we fell four points shy of a state championship title we were proud to take home our second place win. Although our minds and bodies were thankful that the long year had come to an end, our hearts wanted to hold on a little longer. The season would like to thank the coaches, team, and parents for everything and wish luck in the years to come.

Great Season for Goodbye

Led by new coach Brian Sankey, the North Attleboro High School baseball team had a superb season this year by winning the Hockomock League championship with a 12 - 4 record (15 - 7 overall), as well as earning the high school's first state tournament berth in eight years.

The team was led by great defense, headed by Justin Parr (SS) and Justin Ainsworth (CF), as well as a hard-hitting line-up of JT Mooney (9 homeruns), Jordan Goldberg, Chris Connelly, and Jamie Moynihan.

The team played in many close games, winning six games by a single run advantage and rallying to win five games in extra innings. This year's team had three players named to the All-Hockomock team. These players were JT Mooney, Justin Ainsworth, and Sean Morrissey. Good luck to next year's team in continuing our dominance of the Hockomock League.

Tennis, Tennis...Here We Go

The North Attleboro boys' tennis team enjoyed one of its best seasons in the program's history, posting a 15 - 4 record and finishing second in the Hockomock League. Behind the leadership of co-captains Matt Sexton and Mike Spillane and under the direction of first-year head coach Derek Folan, the team also earned a second straight trip to the state tournament.

Junior Mitchell Rose and Sexton, playing in the No. 1 and No. 2 single spots respectively, emerged as two of the top players in the Hockomock League. They served as the team's foundation, ending the year with 17 - 2 records, All-Hockomock League and All-Sun Chronicle honors. Rose was named the team and League MVP.

Senior Luis Mendizabal, a crafty player with a big serve, took home the team's Unsung Hero award for his invaluable performances at third singles and first doubles, while Spillane's intensity and competitiveness set the tone at first doubles. In addition, sophomores Ben Lamothe, Wes Goodwin, and Carter Nicholson and freshmen Ben DeForet and Dan Serafin (Most Improved) made tremendous contributions.

Girls' Tennis

The 2003 N.A. Girls' Tennis Team started the season not knowing how good it really was. With the tremendous support of our dedicated fans, especially Greg Korbass, the tennis team was able to have a successful season. For the first time in many years, the girls captured the Hockomock League Champions title with an 18-1 record (Should be 19-0!). With talented junior Marissa Parent playing 1st singles, she earned valuable points for the squad. 2nd singles was Alex Manoogian who could always be counted on to deliver the best. 3rd singles was filled with sophomore Laura Shanley, who has much promise for future years. Our 1st doubles team of Amy Zimmerman and Emily Giannini had an amazing season and some unforgettable wins (vs. KP!). The 2nd doubles duo of Kayla Hagan and Jessie Demers never missed a beat and always crushed the competition. But without the hard work and dedication of Coach Burgess, who knows if we would have truly realized our potential. All those long runs and wall sits paid off! Good luck to the 2004 team and our new captains -- Alex and Marissa. You guys will bring home another title!

Girls' Softball

Coach Wallace, Coach Boni, and Coach Weldon led the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman softball teams towards success to create a memorable 2003 season. This season was not only special because of the records but because of the team bonding on and off the field. With four capable seniors and sophomore pitching ace Laura Vallett we were bound for an unforgettable season. While Rookie fired over 200 strikeouts from the mound, our batting order drove in many runs, including three homeruns from our master blaster, Steph Pratt. As the only team in the Hockomock League to defeat league champions King Philip, we pressed on to defeat all but one team in the league at least once.

Finishing our regular season 13-7 we earned a spot in the MIAA state tournament as the number 12 seed. Our team made school history beating Nauset, Milton, and New Bedford in our first three tourny games. Moving on to the semi-finals at the infamous Brockton stadium we played hard against Taunton, the defending state champions. As our season came to an end we held our heads high, finishing with an impressive record of 16-8, knowing we could play with anyone.

All of our successes this season were because of a true team effort. Pizza nights at Papa Gino's, Sunday night practices, and friendly fights over pop ups helped create a unified team. Good luck to next year's team led by captain elects Megan Brunell and Jenn Stowell. Leave a new trail next year and go all the way girls! We will miss you all.

Never Lose Hope

The start of the North Attleboro boys' track team did not go as planned. The season started off with a loss to the Hockomock League rival, Mansfield. It was said that North Attleboro or Mansfield would be the one to take the league title. It was a tight meet from the beginning to the end. The score ended with a devastating 80 - 56 loss. We knew we had to step up, because this was just the beginning of the season. Doing this, the team went on to win the next seven inner league meets. The strive was on to show Mansfield what we were all about at the Hockomock League Championships. The meet was exciting, but we found ourselves down by the end of the field events, but we never gave up. The running events went on through the night and we gained control with points. We ended up taking the Hockomock League trophy home, scoring an amazing 120 points in the meet.

The season was great, having many people on the team step up to their highest standards. Great leadership from senior captains Jamie Martin, Rich Cherecwich, and Bobby Pailes, along with seniors Garrett Vandette, Bryan McNamara, Nathaniel Lane, and Bobby Phillips, helped in achieving the season's success. Good luck to next year's team.

Girls' Spring Track

For the first time probably ever in girls' spring track history, the first three meets of the season were postponed because of a blizzard. This just forced the girls to wait out their anxiety about starting the season but also gave the team more practices to prepare for the tough competition it was going to face. Captains Jen Deschenes, Andrea Schofield, Caitlin Hurley and the rest of the seniors kept the team focused and looking towards one goal -- finish with a strong standing in the league. Finally, the first meet against Mansfield came where North pulled out a one point victory over the eventual League Meet Champions. This momentum carried the team into its meets against Canton, Stoughton and O.A., where they picked up victories along with countless personal bests. After winning the Va Muscato Relay trophy, North entered the Foxboro meet knowing that the Warriors always put up a good fight. Well, this year's fight wasn't good enough to upset Big Red, and the girls continued their unbeaten streak. After winning the King Philip in Sharon meets, North and Franklin were the only two perfect teams left and therefore the league came down to the dual meet between the two powerhouses. Although every girl in a red uniform proved herself by giving 100% that day, Franklin came out on top. At the league meet North fought hard and came away with three Hockomock Champions and several other excellent placements and great performances. At the Class B meet, Caitlin Hurley won the 100 meters, while the 4 by 1 team of Kellyn Kearney, Jen Deschenes, Leah Seward, and Caitlin Hurley also became Class B Champions. They also went on to All States to place 5th with an amazing PR of 49.99. Leah Seward (200) and Jen McNamara (100 hurdles) also placed high in Class B and qualified for All States.

Because of the postponed meets early in the season, North faced many tough and important meets towards the end of the season within days of one another. The girls did a tremendous job of handling the competition and both feelings of victory and defeat during this stressful part of the schedule. A 7-1 record in the toughest league in the state is a huge accomplishment. The seniors leave their years of running at North with lasting memories and an exceptional record that consists of only three losses. Thank you to Coach Estey and Coach Holster for their never-ending guidance that taught us how to be true winners. Good luck to next year's team and captain elects Kellyn Kearney, Brooke Lenihan and Andrea McKim. Keep the winning tradition alive girls!

Clubademics

The 2002-2003 school year saw the students at NANS running hither and thither, popping up everywhere. In addition to regular schoolwork, sports, and jobs, we involved ourselves in a wide variety of activities, with students joining activities in which their true colors could shine through.

We showed our support for our community through the actions of Student Council, SADD, SCAR, Angel Planes, and National Honor Society. The Music and Drama Departments, as well as the Dance Team, Galadriel, and Art Club, provided our class with a little culture and a lot of entertainment. The Video Club kept us well informed and the Homecoming Rally got us pumped up. Amidst our whirlwind of activities, we all had a chance to create ourselves.

Tearin' Up the Field

This year's Powderfuff game was postponed a week, giving both teams extra nights to perfect their plays and game strategies under the lights at Mason Field. The seniors pulled their annual prank on the Junior Jets that consisted of turning off the football lights to leave them practicing in the dark. The juniors tried to get revenge, but their scheme ended with the male senior football players barricading the exit so the juniors couldn't leave. The seniors laughed hardest again.

All the hard work and fun times at practices came together on Sunday November 10, at the Raymond Beaupre Jr. Field. The amount of enthusiasm and spirit brought by both the juniors and seniors was incredible and endless. Both classes were determined to prove their hidden football skills with a little help from their coaches. Led by seniors Colleen Vandette, Rob King, and Nick Stevens, the determined Sharks dominated their tough, yet somewhat inexperienced opponents. Justin Ainsworth, Peter Rizzo, and Paul Corcoran guided and let the highly spirited and hard working Junior Jets through their first Powderpuff game.

The fact that the juniors played with 14 players the entire game didn't phase the seniors. Their offense still proved to be too tough to handle as they were still able to enter the Jet's end zone three times—extra players or not. With an unshakable defense, the seniors also kept the undersclassmen from entering Shark territory. With an 18-0 shutout the Sharks kept the winning senior tradition alive.

Team mascots, excited fans, and camera-clicking parents cheered on both teams throughout the game. Bet you never thought two hours of watching girls play football could be so fun and memorable. Way to start off an awesome senior year to the girls of 2003 and good luck to the class of 2004 in next year's game!

North Spirit Soars Off the Charts

LET'S HEAR IT...

North pride bounced off the walls of the Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium during the 2002 Homecoming Rally. The energetic cheerleading team, enthusiastic color guard, and edgy band jumped, twirled, and totally rocked, showing off their "big red" spirit. The 2003 Senior Class was responsible for the remaining noise, confetti, balloons, and pride oozing out of North Attleboro High School at the rally...earning first place in the spirit contest. A very entertaining tricycle race and a mean tug-of-war game left red and white blood on the gym floor. Traditionally, the Homecoming Court represented North's most royal supporters. In addition, Student Council organized a fashionably spirited week of attire for the entire school.

The postponed Homecoming game against the Franklin Panthers due to rain did not affect the determined football players or the dedicated float masterminds. Suprisingly, after weeks of preparation and a minor panther crisis, all four of the Homecoming Floats were a great success. Three of the floats tied for excellence. The Senior Class earned another 1st place finish in the float competition for the second year in a row with a hot theme, "Welcome to our Jungle, you can run but you can't hide." The Panthers could not hide from the Red Rocketeers, and could barely run-but who could? No one. North Attleboro proudly represented its Superbowl Champions.

Loves Music, Loves to Dance

The Student Council's Father-Daughter
Dance is a Great Success

This years Father Daughter Dance was held in the High School cafeteria and was decorated by the members of the Student Council. Senior girls took the dance floor first, but the underclassmen were soon to follow. Daughters showed their fathers the new dance moves, while the dads showed the girls how real men dance. This years dance was very special for the seniors as they were spun around to "Butterfly Kisses" for the last time. During the final song of the night a few tears were seen on faces, but all left with a smile as the 2003 Father Daughter Dance came to an end.

Striving for the Best Student Council Sponsors Many Activities and Opportunities for NAHS

The 2002-2003 Student Council turned out to be a successful year once again, continuing on last year's efforts. Led by Senior Officers Coutney Smith, Adam Lumnah, Jacki Libby, and Greg Korbas, the Student Council was responsible for a number of beneficial events, including the popular Red Cross Blood Drive, as well as the annual Father-Daughter Dance.

Mrs. Caldwell worked diligently throughout the year to make these events happen, so a big "thank you" goes out to her. Also deserving recognition are a number of other Student Council members who worked equally hard to see to our success.

Good Luck to next year's Student Council in their efforts to continue the valuable services as a result of out organization.

Student Coalition Against Racism Learns that Acceptance is the Key to Success

The Student Coalition Against Racism was again very active in the high school community during the 2002-2003 school year. Co-advisor Susan Caldwell, with more than 140 members participating in meetings and discussions on the topic of acceptance. At various SCAR meetings, members discussed anti-Semitism and anti-Islamic sentiment in society. A guest speaker from the Department of Education presented a workshop about gay and lesbian issues. This helped to launch a support group called Building Bridges. Acceptance and diversity began each school day during March and April as SCAR provided a "Quote for the Day" and judging others by appearance. SCAR members concluded a successful year by presenting workshops to the North Attleboro Middle School students during Anti-Bullying Day with the hopes of recruiting new members.

Angel Planes—a club with tremendous wing power. This year, as a first year club, we have exceeded our goal. North Attleboro students have attained "Gold Nine" membership, the highest rank possible. The purpose of Angel Planes is to help raise money for needy children and their families. Through many fundraisers, such as a variety of bake sales and the Student-Faculty Football Game, members of Angel Planes contributed their time and efforts for those less fortunate. Be ready, next year we will have a rematch!

SADD Members Show NAHS What They're All About

The 2002-2003 school year left many lasting impressions and cherishable memories in the hearts and minds of all of the SADD members. As the year began we had our first big event to raise money for our club. We had our very own "Singled Out," a dating game, never before seen at NAHS. One winning senior guy and girl took part in a series of blindfolded question and answer rounds. They eventually eliminated the contestants until there was one lucky guy and one girl left. Each couple received a "romantic night out" paid for by SADD.

As the year progressed we held monthly meetings and went to the Attleboro court house to take part in the "scared sober" program. There we met many lawyers, judges, and criminals. We heard heart wrenching stories and learned valuable lessons about peer pressure, drugs, alcohol, and growing up. Our time spent there was very valuable. Our last big event for the school year was the annual SADD fashion show held in the auditorium. The girls were "glammed up" in dresses from JC Penney and stylish "up-does" from their styling salon. The guys looked marvelous in the tuxes that were donated by Robert's Tuxedo. The show began and the senior members strutted their stuff to such songs as "I'm too sexy," walking down the red carpet runway. Everything looked wonderful, especially the couples. This beautiful night was never to be forgotten.

All in all we'd like to thank all of the members for their help throughout the year and for everything that they did to better the club. Good luck next year to the officers and members both present and future. Hope you all have a wonderful year.

Salute!

This year's Latin Club accomplished many noteworthy tasks. Many members participated in the National Latin Exam. The results were as stunning as ever, with many participants receiving medals and recognition ranging from cum laude to gold medals. The club also took a field trip to the Higgin's Armory and the Worcester Art Museum. At these places, we were able to view authentic weapons and gladiatorial helmets, as well as beautiful mosaics from the Roman Empire. On top of this, a few members also participated in the Medusa Mythology exam. Congratulations on another successful year.

Together Everyone Achieves More

The 2002 Hockomock YMCA Senior Leaders Club has participated in several community service projects this year. Haunted Woods, Collaborations at the North Attleboro Science Center, Food drives, town clean, Plainville's Walk for Domestic Violence, and Relay for Life are just some of the many events Leaders have participated in. During the year we developed leadership skills through values, weekend rallies, and group trips. We also strengthened our international relationships and understanding by participating in programs with teens from Ireland and by sending representatives to an International European Conference. This year's success was possible due to the commitment of every Leader and the guidance of this year's Executive Committee (Monique Roberge, President; Adam Lumnah, Vice President; Suzy Ward, Treasurer; Christine Powell, Secretary; Emily Desilets, Historian). This year's graduating seniors will be missed!

Student Awareness Club Continues to Have Another Successful Year

The Student Awareness Club did not start off with an overwhelming first meeting; however, the students still managed to dedicate themselves and their time to good deeds.

Through the hard efforts of the members of this group and advisor, Mrs. Caldwell, money was raised for charitable causes, such as for leukemia, through the first ever Hat Day, which had an incredible turnout.

Students, and especially Mrs. Caldwell, all put forth their best effort to make it a continuous success and they showed to their peers what a rewarding experience it is to give back to the community in order to make it a better place.

Galadriel Publishes the Pulitzer-Prize Winners of Tomorrow

This year, the production of Galadriel, North Attleboro High School's Literary Magazine, involved new approaches and concepts to go beyond standard-issue magazine. The staff worked hard to use the computer program, putting countless hours of effort into its production.

The determined staff attended meetings every week to rate students' submissions and discuss ideas for the layout. There were many students involved in this year's magazine. With the help of Ms. O'Brien and Mr. Benson, the staff worked hard in the computer lab to finish the magazine in time. The staff was excited to send the edition to the printer's, a cost that had not been covered the previous year. The magazine came out great due to the extra effort put in by the staff.

The Future Begins with Yesterday

The Future Teachers' Club is a new organization that allows students who wish to become teachers a chance to experience the many aspects of the world of education. This year the group participated in many hands-on activities such as the Roosevelt Reading program, Math and Science Night, tutoring, book reviewing, etc. Also, some members in the club were featured in the local Sun Chronicle, discussing their love for teaching. The year was a great success and it led many down the road to mold young minds of the future.

Hard Act to Follow

NAHS Leaders Set High Standards for the Upcoming Classes to Follow

The Office Aides and Video and Writing Lab Leaders: you see them in the office, the media center, the video lab, and the writing lab. They help keep the school running. From finding those files that a student accidentally deleted to photocopying endless stacks of notices, they cheerfully devote their time to helping students and staff at North Attleboro High School. This year's leaders had a great year and hope that next year's leaders find a way to fill their shoes.

This year in the Writing Lab, the all-female group of writing lab leaders helped to make Room 23 a helpful and inviting place to seek assistance with writing and many other academic subjects. These girls worked closely with students, as well as the writing lab teacher, Mr. Benson, to develop web pages, correct papers, fix computer problems, and offer any sort of help a student could ask for. Using both writing and organizational skills, the leaders also helped teachers with their work for the upcoming NEASC evaluation. Each day, these girls made the writing lab a fun and friendly place to go whether a student needed help or just to finish work. These leaders will be a hard act to follow!

P.E. Leaders Whip the Underclassmen into Shape

In our last year at NAHS, P.E. Leaders demonstrate their athletic abilities, leadership skills, and rigorous work ethic. Whether leading daily stretches, enjoying a fun game of mat ball, or challenging Mr. Peron in pickleball, Leaders showed how hard work and participation pay off. Leaders strived to be admirable role models for the underclassmen and also taught them a little about sportsmanship. With such a diverse and responsible group of young leaders, it seemed that there was no situation they could not handle. Each class, they refereed games, supervised activities, and competed with overconfident underclassmen. With a fresh group poised to take over our leadership position in the fall, Leaders can be assured that they will continue the legacy and rule the gymnasium.

No Job Too Tough

The Peer Leaders group is a great organization that allows students to volunteer around the community and become role models for their peers. This year the group had a wonderful time participating in many worthwhile causes, including the Harlem Rockets Benefit Basketball Game, the Great American Smoke Out, fundraising for the March of Dimes, the Relay for Life, etc. All the members did a fantastic job becoming leaders in our school and throughout the community with their friendly personalities, willingness to lend a helping hand, and strong morals and values. Year 2003 marked one of the most successful years of the North Attleboro High School Math Team. So many students arrived to the competitions that our advisor, Mrs. Burke, had to open a new classroom to accommodate the eager participants. Competitors in the New England Mathematics League were from seven school districts in Bristol County. North Attleboro competitors fiercely swept away this competition and secured North Attleboro a third place in the League. Highest scorers and the most passionate members of the team respectfully included Rishi Dhupar, Eric Wilson, Gina Angelosanto and Jillian Berry.

Star Students Shine at the Special Olympics

On May 1, 2003, the special Olympians from North Attleboro and the BICO school program took the field at Attleboro High School to display their athletic skills. The day looked dreary from the beginning, but the persistent rain did nothing to dampen the spirits of the athletes. Everyone witnessed many amazing performances in somewhat trying weather. Though the day was eventually cancelled because of the rain, all the athletes left the field as winners.

Moving Along

NHS Keeps Up the Pace with a Whirlwind of Activities

Under the leadership of President Ben Harris, Vice President Nera-Lee Patel, Secretary Amy Zimmerman, Treasurer Val Hastings, and Publicist Emily Giannini, the National Honor Society had a very successful year. We kicked off the fall with our annual craft fair, which brought in a lot of money and a lot of great memories (think ducks...). Our next big event, induction, was a hit. We welcomed 11 new seniors and 40 new juniors into our organization. The seniors all had a blast at Blue La group and then we went right into the Special Olympics. In addition to the group activities, we contributed countless hours to helping our community. After such a great year, all the seniors proudly wore their distinctive tassels and collars to graduation and left NHS in the capable hands of the newly elected officers.

From the Depths of the Costume Closet

High School Theatre Company certainly depicted the Thespis masks of comedy and tragedy. The fall play Medea was a big hit. It was directed by Anthony Stirpe and starred Ashley Root, Catherine Corbett, and Sean Keane as well as the traditional Greek Chorus who helped the audience get into their dark place.

On from tragedy to comedy we began our Night of One Acts 2003 with two shorts directed by Jillian Hunter Lazzaro entitled What She Found There and League of Semi-Super Heroes. Next for a daring new idea Kristina Jean Conte directed The Bald Soprano, an absurd comedy which was a new realm for our company and a great success. At the end of the night, we ventured back to tragedy with the thought provoking play Anarchy, written by Catherine Corbett and directed by Diane Ella Saunders. Anarchy received the Best Play Award and the Golden Tool was given to our 2003 Drama Club MVP Mark Dwinnells. Our most important recognition was given to our tireless advisors Ms. Laurie Blake, Ms. Bonnie Heile, and Ms. Mary Ellen Palenchar.

Then it was on to more laughter on and off stage with the addition of our new director Mrs. Kelly Scott for our spring musical HONK! This lighthearted show for all ages had us all singing happily down the halls of NAHS. HONK! featured the talents of Michael Hamel, Catherine Corbett, and Peter Rizzo. Seniors taking their last bow at NAHS in this show were Alyson Mather, Kristina Jean Conte, Anna Seagrave, Michael Hamel, and Kelly Bowker. Seniors back stage included Suzanne Ward on Spotlight, Katie St. Lauren as Stage Manager, Diane Saunders as Costume Manager, Jillian Lazzaro as Asst. Director and Jenna Vallett as well as Amie Jarvis on various crews.

The club was also successful in fundraising this year headed by their new Eboard, President Jillian Lazzaro, Vice President Diane Saunders, Secretary Caitlin Bell, Treasurer David Saunders, Scribe David Siewers, Stage Manager Kati St. Laurent, Senior Representative Jenna Vallett, Junior Representative Ian Kibbe, and Freshman/Sophomore Representative Ashley Root. Fundraisers this year included our Annual Dance-athon, the First Annual North Idol competition, the Variety Show, and a rip-roaring end of the year Glow-in-the-Dark Dance. In addition, this year, eighteen new members were inducted into the International Thespian Society. Thanks to all our directors, advisors, parents, and student participants this was an overwhelmingly successful year for the North Attleborough High School Theatre Company.

Music-Palooza!

You may be asking yourself, what is music-palooza? I don't know. But if I did, I'd probably say something nonsensical and cheesy like, "It's the one word that I think accurately describes what our department is, it's fun." This year we pulled out all the stops and broke all the boundaries/eardrums. Typically, the chorus members sing and the band members play their instruments. But, this year we got a little crazy. WAHOOOOOO! This year the band members used their vocalizers and sang in the song about King Arthur and stuff, The Legend of the Sword. And if that wasn't crazy enough, Mrs. Eichorn started two new choral groups that vocally imitate instruments. Women's and Mixed A Cappella, or WAC and MAC, as we call them in our made-up space language, allowed the choral members to bust out the grooves with scatting and vocal percussion in a crazy whirl of do-bahs and pfts.

Marching band took on a whole new bag this year with our punked-out renditions of a Queen Medley. We all thought Mr. Gorman or Gorm-dog as we call him, was crazy when he told us that he would be mixing electric guitars, vocals, a drum set and a bass into the normal winds sections we have all grown accustomed to. But, thanks to Mr. Gorman's unbelievable arranging skills, both tuba and electric bass rocked the field side by side, like never before.

This year's Jazz Band kicked it up at the IAJE Competition with bronze medal, they scored a GOOD rating and a second place trophy at the Six Flags New England competition and they brought the house down with their insane rendition of Fields of Gold at not one, not two, but ...no wait, yeah two jazz festivals.

And speaking of rocking, this year's Jazz Choir rocked the mics in a whole new way. If the crazy skat section in Moondance or the Debah-debah's in South of the Border didn't get the crowd moving then it was their rendition of the Blood, Sweat and Tears hit God Bless the Child. Mrs. Eichorn took the Jazz Choir to a whole new level by taking them to the state jazz competition at Worcester Poly Tech. for the first time and bringing back two vocal awards and the silver medal. And if that wasn't enough winning for one year, they did it again at the Six Flags competition/evaluation bringing home an EXCELLENT rating and first place trophy. And speaking of first place trophies, the women's concert choir brought home a first place trophy and an EXCELLENT rating as well.

And as the wise Howard Dietz once said, "Composers shouldn't think too much — it interferes with their plagiarism"

Keeping NAHS Posted

The Desktop Publishing class of 2003 had a great year. We were responsible for typing the seniors' activities and quotes for the yearbook as well as designing flyers for Formal Class Night and Informal Class Day. In addition to this, we worked on various Microsoft Office Suite programs, including Word, Publisher, PowerPoint, Excel, and Access. Using Publisher, we designed ads for Rocket Corner as well as various businesses in the area. With the help of Mrs. Hogan, we had a lot of fun and learned many new and useful computer skills.

From ABCs to 1-2-3s

The 2003 North Attleboro High School Nursery School program was a huge success. The eighteen students in Child Development II set up, organized, and ran the 8-month in-house Nursery School for a group of 12 four-year-olds. Each day brought new activities, projects, lesson plans, bulletin boards, and snacks as the "big girls" prepared the children or kindergarten by teaching them the alphabet, numbers, days of the week, months of the year, and sign language, as well as other necessary social skills. Highlights of the year involved trick-or-treating around the High School, a visit from Santa Claus and his elf, various holiday and birthday celebrations, field trips to teach about community helpers, and the graduation ceremony in May. Everyone involved in the Nursery School Program benefited immensely and we were all sad that the year had to come to an end.

Mad Scientists

The goal of the Science Club is to create and encourage interest in science among elementary, middle, and high school students.

The Science Club began the year by running the annual Microbiology Workshop, which demonstrates simple microbiological techniques to high school students participating in the science fair.

Members of the club presented a multimedia presentation describing the science fair to sixth, seventh, and eighth grade classes at the Middle School. Many club members participated in judging the Middle School science fair and observing the students' projects.

Funds from donations by local professional and business organizations were used to run a four week program in Martin School's fifth grade classes. Five club members performed a series of experiments covering expansion-contraction, combustion, and heat transfer. One session overviewed science fair and helped the students with their science fair problems and ideas.

The Science Club also gave an award at the Middle School, High School and Regional Science Fairs.

Science Studs

The town of North Attleboro is well renowned for consistently producing students that perform an outstanding job at the annual science fairs at all levels. Some students initiate their project as early as the summer in order to get a head start. However, the majority of students start their research in September. Experimentation typically starts between mid October and November. Our students are dedicated and often come into the school over Christmas vacation to finish and put any necessary last minute touches on their projects before the school science fair.

The top 18 students at the North Attleboro Fair earn the privilege of moving on to the next level, the Regional Fair. The Regional Fair is held at Bristol Community College. This Fair serves as one of the most important for competitors since the two highest scoring projects get to compete in the International Science and Engineering Fair, held in Cleveland this year. This year two students from NAHS were awarded the top two prizes at the Regional Fair. Sophomore Kasia Whiting earned the highest scoring project while junior, Jillian Berry, earned the second highest scoring project.

This year was no exception for great projects at the State level as well. North Attleboro had three first place winners: Herbert Hedberg, Jillian Berry and Shahriar Khan. North also had one second place winner, Gina Angelosanto, and two third place winners: Kasia Whiting and Eric Wilson.

Three Cheers! NAHS Honors Students at the Academic Awards Assembly

On May 8, 2003, the students who succeeded academically were recognized in an awards assembly in the North Attleboro High School Gymnasium. Benjamin Harris, the President of the National Honor Society, presided as the master of ceremonies. Many awards were given out by different department directors and teachers. All students who attained the highest honors status were recognized by the crowd. The ceremony reaffirmed the mission of North Attleboro High School to be primarily an academic institution.

Northern Light Staff Captures Many Memories at NAHS

The 2003 Yearbook staff began the year by sending the 7 new editors (Senior editor Nicole Schwalm, Underclassmen editor Amy Zimmerman, Girls Sports editor Meghan Barry, Boys Sports editor Greg Korbass, Clubademics Editor Val Hastings, Advertisements editor Megan Schwalm, and Computer editor Michelle McCrady) and Mrs. Lush to Westfield State for Yearbook Camp. Despite the trials and tribulations of trying to eat at Friendly's and the sweltering heat, everyone had a great time learning how to create a yearbook. As an added bonus, we all got spiffy new yearbook T-shirts! Then school started and everyone in the staff had a chance to help out. We learned that we were getting a new Jostens Publishing Consultant, Kevin Simoneau, so we got to show him how North Attleboro creates a yearbook, from our unique computer skills (or lack thereof in some cases) to Mrs. Lush's amazing cooking abilities (she can whip up anything on Route 152!) After countless hours of planning, creating, telephoning, and panicking, we finally finished up and are proud of the 2003 Northern Light. The staff would like to thank our Advisor, Mrs. Lush, Mrs. Hogan and her students, and Kevin Simoneau for all of their help, guidance, and suggestions.

Seniors

We confidently walked through the doors of North Attleborough High School in September as unique individuals, each with our own distinct, top-of-the-line sense of fashion that separated us from the rest of the world. We slowly worked our way through the treacherous piles of college and scholarship applications that haunted us for months like an unavoidable fashion don't as we neatly bubbled in the circles on the SATs and SAT IIs. Our style-savvy class proudly bragged about acceptance and rejection letters that we received in the long, fashionable, strictly-business envelopes. For some of us, senioritis had kicked in, but we did our best to avoid this "so-last-season" attitude and propelled ourselves down the runway at full speed towards the end-of-the-year activities leading up to graduation. Prom, Informal Class Day, Formal Class Night, and the Senior Reception arrived sooner than we were able to determine what to wear. Graduation was a sentimental affair of red and white. We all felt sad, nervous, and excited to be leaving behind everything and everybody that we had ever known, but we knew that we were prepared to make it in the real world, so we rolled out our style, prepared to make a memorable first impression. After four long, difficult, and memorable years, we realized that we had not discovered ourselves during the time that we had spent at NAHS -- we had created ourselves.

Senior Reception

The elegant Senior Reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Mansfield on May 28, 2003. The well-dressed seniors arrived early and filled the hall with laughter, conversation, camera bulb flashes, and dancing while waiting for the dinner to arrive. Everybody enjoyed the elegant meal, but waited eagerly for the waiters to bring the rolls and the dessert to their tables. Afterwards, the Class of 2003 lined up in the hallway and listened to the endless line of parents, teachers, and school board members congratulate the students and wish them good luck on the future paths they choose. This procession included endless hugs and handshakes from acquaintances and strangers. Then everyone filled the reception hall once again and enjoyed the music from the DJ, crowding back onto the dance floor and joining other students, parents, and even a few courageous and bold teachers. The night slowly came to an end and as the music stopped playing and friends began to gather their belongings and say goodbye, the senior class realized that their high school years were also coming to an end and students left with bittersweet emotions.

Senior Cookout

The annual Senior Cookout, a sun-soaked day filled with hot dogs, hamburgers, laughter, sunbathing, and volleyball and kickball games, was a huge success and was attended by a majority of the Senior class. Everyone arrived to the field in their casually cool, comfortable fashions of the season prepared to spend an unforgettable day together. The students milled around in small groups and discussed the past four years and their ambitious plans for the summer. The smells from the grills, headed primarily by Chris Cekala, Mr. Vito, and Mr. Aussant, drifted across the field and forced the students to obey their stomachs and strut their stuff over to the picnic tables to stand in the buffet-style lines and pile up the food on their plates. As the day came to an end, students reluctantly said goodbye to their friends and the High School, counting down the remaining days until Graduation.

Mmm . . . mmm . . . good! (above) The talented Chris Cekala practices his grilling skills and takes over as head chef.

Senior Prom 2003

The 2003 Senior Prom was a night that we will never forget. This year's prom was held at the exquisite Quidnessett Country Club in North Kingston, Rhode Island on April 23, 2003. As we all walked into the elegant ballroom, we were awestruck by the stunning view from the balcony. The ballroom was filled with girls in gorgeous dresses and guys in hot tuxedos. The night was filled with smiles, camera flashes, and unforgettable memories of our class. As the night moved on, the dance floor was jammin' with hot bodies! After hours of eating and dancing, the night slowed down as the handsome couple of our King and Queen, Jake Ducharme and Tara Rose, danced to our "touching" prom song "Let's Get It On" by Marvin Gay. As the night sadly came to an end, smiles continued as everybody's cameras ran out of film, capturing the moments that we will never forget.

Informal Class Day

On May 30, 2003, the senior class gathered for one last time in the High School gymnasium while school was still in session for Informal Class Day. Everyone enjoyed the music from the school band as we walked into the Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium in style. We laughed during the reading of the Class History and wore curious, confused expressions as we tried to comprehend the inside jokes that ran rampant throughout the Class Will. Everyone displayed their appreciation for Mr. Frutchey when the yearbook dedication was announced, and he rose to give an impromptu speech, thanking the members of the senior class for the memories that they have given him. Finally, the long-awaited Senior Video Show began and we stared at the screen in awe as we reminisced about the past thirteen years that we have shared with each other and the memories that we have created both in and out of school.

Formal Class Night

The style-savy Class of 2003 marched into the gymnasium one more time as proud parents, teachers, siblings, and friends looked on in awe. Everyone enjoyed listening to four unique essays written by Michelle Burgess, Meghan Weldon, Kristina Jean-Conte, and Ben Harris. Then everyone attempted to maintain their cool composure while nervously listening to the endless lists of awards presented by the Administration. These awards included the Principal's Awards, President's Education Awards, Crockett Award, Athletic Trophy Cup Awards, Academic Awards, and Massachusetts Secondary Schools Administrators' Association Award. The chorus dazzled the audience with its beautiful version of LeeAnne Womack's "I Hope You Dance," which featured duets by Senior chorus members. Ben Harris presented the National Honor Society gift and the yearbook editors announced the yearbook dedication. Mr. Frutchey then gave a comical speech to the Senior Class about how "curiosity killed the cat," but, ironically, it was the cat's fault. The evening ended with the presentation of the impressive Senior Video Show and the Senior Class left the school with mixed feelings about the prospect of leaving High School forever.

Gracious and Glamorous

Graduation

On June 1, 2003, the Senior Class proudly marched into the Kenneth G. Pickering Gymnasium (due to the torrential rain outside) to the beat of "Pomp and Circumstance," performed by the NAHS band. After four long years, the day had finally arrived, and the seniors filled the floor with a sea of red and white robes and dangling tassels. Salutatorian Meghan Barr discussed her amusing high school experiences of leaving "the comfort zone" while Valedictorian Valerie Hastings expressed the importance of reaching out towards those around you in her beautifully written essay. Mr. Barrett and Mr. Walsh then announced the many scholarship recipients before the seniors held their heads high while walking onto the stage to receive their well-deserved diplomas. Mr. Gay then recognized the members of the Class of 2003 as official graduates of North Attleborough High School during the tassel ceremony in which the students moved their tassels from right to left, signifying their successful passage through high school. Then, for the last time, the Class of 2003 walked together through the gymnasium doors with a broad mixture of emotions and an empty road leading to the future ahead.

The Grand Finale Brent England, president of the Senior Class, addresses the Class of 2003 for the last time as Master of Ceremonies.

I Never Bought a School Lunch . . . Salutatorian Meghan Barry explains her own personal experiences of leaving the "comfort zone" for a more fulfilling life.

Stretch Out and R-E-A-C-H Valedictorian Valerie Hastings describes the importance of reaching out to other people throughout one's lifetime.

Dedication

Mr. James Frutchey

The smartest class to graduate from North Attleboro High School in many years is proud to award this year's yearbook dedication to quite possibly the smartest man in the world. Any student who has been fortunate enough to study under this brilliant professor has gained appreciation of the complexity of the Watergate scandal and the true sophistication of Far Side comics. While his students have complained about writing difficult papers and spending long hours reading about the demise of Hitler's regime, so many of us have suffered through many long classes in a room the temperature of an igloo, we never got sick of seeing what crazy tie he'd wear next. Whether he was remembering to bring us a Halloween treat or a candy cane for Christmas, this teacher never failed to bring a smile to our faces. This man has always challenged and expected the best of his students, and we never received anything less in return.

After 34 years of teaching, this historian rarely even glances at his notes before giving a lecture. Instead, he pulls all the important facts, and even some fun trivia, into every lesson. Even when he can not grace his students with his presence for a day, he sends the Mrs. in with specific lesson plans ready to go. From "Anne of 1000 Days" to "A man , A Plan, A Canal: Panama" he only presented us with the highest quality films. He showed us how to be true hippies and also how to live like a real monk. With his dry humor which some students are still too brain dead to understand, he captivated those smart enough to grasp his intellect. With all his help and guidance in our college searches, he inspired all his students to reach for their dreams.

This year's yearbook dedication goes out to a man who will be greatly missed next year. After over three decades of extraordinary leadership and teaching, the North Attleboro High School will be hard pressed to find someone to take his place. We all want to thank you so much for the wisdom and guidance you have given us in the last four years. We proudly present the 2003 Northern Light Yearbook Dedication to the absolutely brilliant history teacher, Mr. James Frutchey.

The Year in Review

Life's a blur... Focus on fashion.

In August 2002, we packed our bags and headed off to Westfield State College for yearbook camp for three days and two nights. In the sweltering heat and lack of air conditioning, we sat through endless seminars and lectures and broke numerous computers, much to the dismay of the Jostens representatives who were teaching the classes. The trip was marked with oddly rumbling stomachs and a giant lack of appetizing food in the cafeteria. We survived solely on ice cream sundaes and bread. We returned home with an immense amount of knowledge to use for the upcoming year and many memories of Westfield.

After spending endless hours in the yearbook office from early in the morning till late at night, we began to visualize the outcome of our hard work. We discussed layouts and ideas at the quick six o'clock meetings that would "only last an hour," but as the final deadline approached, these meetings grew longer and the refreshments improved. We struggled over obtaining copy for the pages and coming up with catchy phrases and captions for our pictures as the end drew near, but we succeeded and finished on time (almost). In the end, we came to the conclusion that hard work always pays off and that a wide fashion vocabulary is essential.

Ads

Each year our community shows overwhelming support to the Northern Light yearbook by publicizing their businesses through purchasing ads. Some businesses have been placing ads in the yearbook for decades while others are just starting the tradition. The Northern Light staff thanks them for their continued support. A special thanks to the National Honor Society who devoted two days toward canvassing the town to sell ads to local businesses in order to help fund this edition of the Northern Light.

2003 Class Will

Sheena Acosta-Frizzel: To all my girls, I love ya all and I will never forget the good times we shared. To Rosey and King, we will always be Charlie's Angels, definitely unstoppable. To Baker, Roosevelt is where it all began. To Veness, Ash, and Rach – "The Party Girls" – ya'll crazy! And to Jules, I'll be wearing your designs someday! To all my teachers, you have inspired me to follow in your footsteps. And to my mom, you'll always be my best friend.

Brooke Alam: DB: Thanks for always being there... CD: Gonna miss you! JA: Keep track of Butch – sorry about that scar man! FG: Yeah, like with sour cream? Mmm... potato.

Jason Allard: Tee's incidents on the road. J, keep your head up.

Mari Amara: To Liam, Mason & Ganz – all the lemons you can steal. To Franco, one last holla. And to Nick – whatever the may bring us and a hundred kisses.

Danielle Anderson: I leave unforgettable memories throughout these past four years and good luck to everyone in the class of 2003.

Seth Antonitis: All the good times to Strait Laced crew. Thanks to all my heroes, free hugs for everybody and an extra special hug for Katie.

Jonathon Armand: Nicole: I leave my time and my heart. Both well spent with you. I hope you get everything you've ever wanted. I love you. Rest in peace Betty, thanks for the good times. Brooke: I leave a fading scar, butch and a few motivated words. Thanks for confidence. To everyone else – good luck, I'll miss you.

Shea Armell: To all my girls I leave plenty of more room for late night times and to Taylor you'll forever have my heart.

Venessa Asselin: To all the friends I've made past and present, I leave a place in my heart and my thoughts always. I'll always remember trips to Connecticut, midnight snacks, and the #1 stunnas. Never forget that no distance is too great... we're only a phone call away.

Kori Bainton: Kyle- Good luck in the years to come! I leave unforgettable memories and great friendships to all my friends. Fitzzy – you're still "out of control!" To everyone else in the class of 2003 – Good luck in the future!

Tara Baker: Lindsay, to my best bean. Field hockey, watermelon sherbet, amoebas, gym leaders, and so much more! To all of my friends, good luck and I will miss you, so many memories. Fun times in Spanish with the five-factor! April apagame ahora! Thanx to all the senior class and my teachers for everything. Good luck Heather in your seniors year. Love you Dave!

Meghan Barry: To Stinky, Gorgeous, and Deanna toenails and tape, Rachel Hello, too much to drink at lunch, Jenna and Lynn curvaceous skis, Nera-Lee, communism, fruit, and our pig club; My brothers – my grades, good luck, Jen, a glowin man, Kristen, the list, Emily, your closet, S White, bread, Lauren, our lockers buddy, Marie, all the good times, Amina, a sense of direction, Good luck everyone!

Dan Beach: To the Strait Laced crew I leave all my love and the best times of my life. And to Kathryn I leave my heart, my soul, and my reason for being.

Nichole Benoit: To Jeff I leave 1 more year here. To Kristen I leave 2 years and those fights we've had. To Erin, I leave those fun nights of hanging out. Friends forever! To Amy, talk sometimes and reach for the stars.

Lauren Beraldi: Funnest times at track practice with the carrots and the best people in the world. Good luck everybody, I'll miss you.

Erin Belham: Alyce I give you all my water, don't throw it away. Muzzy, CSI twice a week and don't forget Grisom the frog. Jenna, don't go to the wrestling meets without me. PJ enjoy your last 3 years at NAHS to the fullest.

Christina Bonome: Jess, endless scoops of ice-cream, good luck to the Distance Crew and thanks for miles of memories. Katie, the friendship and fun never ends...

Astrid Bourdois-Aliberti: To all my friends I leave memories of good times. Shall you never forget them. I know I won't. To my girls in track good luck with your remaining years: run hard and remember, "Just do it!"

David Bowker: To Lynn, my green ad blue plaid shirt. To Chris, a cinnamon powdered doughnut, to Alex, another concussion, and to Jenna, my phone will be ON.

Kelly Bowker: Rachel, I leave my room, camera, and billiard talent. Brandi a deck of cards, so yarn and lessons. Jacki and Lisa may you play banko again, warning to all – don't leave your morals for cheap entertainment.

Amanda Brown: To Erin and Jill: cruises in the Aries with Jenie and Petey to Taco Bell with only one dollar. WWF forever. Gina, yodelahyewho. Everyone else, KO & bud.

Bridget Browne: Cheek rings rock! Jamie, my after school activities. Lindsay, my car. A. Brown. Brandi, Flynn, Cara, Monique, everyone else Canada! Ashley, Jen, and the rest of you guys the best of luck in everything you do.

Michelle Burgess: I leave a book of my long stories to the study crew, Friendly's and praking lots to the "crew", a trip to Panera, a long car ride and my heart to Adam, a dance dedicated to Rhee Gold to Brooke, many great memories to last forever and many more to come. Good luck next year!

Kayla Canitez: Across the country. Across the state. Always together at heart. I love you girls forever.

Noemi Carrion: To those lots of memories to last a lifetime and many more to come. I love you. I love you too Brandi.

Rosa Carrion: I leave Lindsay my baby blue paw pants. I leave Nicole fun times in chemistry class. I leave Brandi a bucket of fries. I leave my sister some pork fried rice and chicken fingers.

To everyone, good luck!

Ashley Wilk: To the Senior Crew, thanks for all the good times and long night drives, parties and concerts. Fertitta, my permanent swim buddy, I'll miss you. Robbins, a piece of ice and my crutches to hobble on! Muzzy, good times at Hot Night!

Kim Wynn: A peach, Spice Girls, one more "Focus," and a boyfriend. To the LC, a sledding chair, whip-cream, pretzels, and NOS. To Zues and Katie, a bird and all the comes with it, a shamrock. To Chris, two more years and a snowball. To the girls, let's go men! Pep it up!

Cadena Yules: Directions. 80 West to the 101. My door will always be open. Thanks for the crazy adventures, unstoppable laughs and unforgettable memories. Remember, being cloudy is a good thing and running gets you places faster. Ya'll rock.
